

Breitenbach 2018 – Digging the Aurignacian

We're looking for student volunteers to join us in excavating the largest Early Upper Palaeolithic open-air settlement in Western Eurasia. Breitenbach (ca. 34,000 BP) is a key site of the Central European Aurignacian and has already produced ten-thousands of lithic and organic finds.

When: 30 July – 03 October 2018

Where: Breitenbach (Saxony-Anhalt), Germany

Work includes: Excavation, water-screening,
Find sorting & data management

Language requirements: English or German

Free board/accommodation

Contact: Tim Matthies (matthies@rgzm.de)

